F 0600 Level of Harm - Minimal harm or potential for actual harm Residents Affected - Few	V7 (Licensed Practical Nurse) stated she was working on 3/25/25 on the pm shift. V7 was in the pantry getting one of her residents a snack when she heard someone yelling. V7 stated they immediately came out of the pantry and went to where she heard the noise. V7 stated when she went down the hall, she saw R2 coming out of R1's room with scratches on her face and saw her nurse (V6) assessing R1. V7 stated that V7 was asked by V6 to look at R2's face. V7 stated they noticed that R2 had some scratches on her face. V7 stated they asked R2 what happened and R2 told her she did not know, and nothing happened. V7 stated they went back to R1's room and they asked R1 what happened. R1 told V7 that her and R2 were talking when R2 suddenly started to scratch her. V7 stated they gave them first aide and notified the Nurse Practitioner. V7 stated this was the first time that R1 and R2 had got into an altercation. V6 (Licensed Practical Nurse) stated on 3/28/25 at 5:15pm she was working on the evening of 3/25/25 and remembers that R1's daughter had just left the facility. V6 stated about 15 minutes after she left, V6 was passing medications and walked into R1's room and noticed that R1 and R2 had scratches on their face. V6 stated they asked them what happened and R1 told her that they were fighting. V6 stated they asked R1 why and R1 told her she did not know why. V6 stated they asked R2 but due to her poor cognition could not explain what had happened. V6 stated they notified the NP (nurse practitioner) and got an order for bacitracin ointment to be applied to the scratches on both residents. V6 stated it was hard to believe what had happened since R1 and R2 were friends. V6 stated now they will not allow R2 to go visit R1 anymore since that incident happened. V4 (Certified Nurse Aide) stated on 3/28/25 at 5:25pm she was on the unit in the evening of 3/25/25 doing resident care and heard some commotion. V4 stated they stepped out of the room and headed to R1's rooms where she heard the noise. V4 stated they saw the two nurses in R1's room and saw R2 walking out of R1's room with scratches on her face and neck. V4 stated she was told to escort R2 to her room. V4 stated later on towards the end of the shift when she did see R1, she noted a small bruise on her lips and several scratches on her face. V4 stated V4 has worked on the floor for a few months and never seen R2 attack another resident. V2 (Certified Nurse Aide) stated on 3/28/25 at 5:40pm she was working on her regular pm shift the evening of 3/25/25 when V2 was suddenly called by V6 to R1's room. V2 stated when she entered R1's room she noticed R1 had scratches under her eye and on her lips. V2 stated R1 called her daughter and V6 told the daughter that R1 had an altercation with R2. V2 stated she had never heard of R2 attacking or fighting with R1 before. V2 stated at the time of the incident V2 was doing patient care in another resident's room. V1 (Administrator) stated on 3/28/25 at 5:55pm that R1 was involved in an altercation with another resident (R2). V1 stated both residents sustained scratches on their face. V1 stated R2 used to live a few doors down from R1 but after the incident was moved to another section of the Dementia unit. V8 (Nurse Practitioner) stated on 4/1/25 at 2:30pm they were notified that R1 and R2 had an altercation resulting in scratches. V8 stated V8 saw both residents and noted that the scratches were superficial, and they did not require any hospitalization .
